

Varicosis, Cosmetic & Laser Center

The Varicosis, Cosmetic and Laser Center founded in 1995 by Dr. Timothy Parish is Alabama's premier center for patients wanting effective procedures and a short recovery for the complete spectrum of vein conditions as well as cosmetic improvements for the skin.

The Varicosis, Cosmetic and Laser center opened its doors in 1995 and introduced many innovative European techniques to Alabama to improve the management of patients with vein related problems. Up until then, patients suffering from vein disease had to either undergo painful stripping operations or live with the pain and embarrassment of varicose veins. Dr. Parish introduced many advanced techniques to Alabama to manage varicosis, among these advances are Endovenous Laser Treatment, Ultrasound Mapping of veins, Ultrasound Guided Sclerotherapy, Ambulatory Phlebectomy, and Transillumination Sclerotherapy. As a pioneer in the field of Phlebology, Dr. Parish has lectured at national and international meetings since 1995 and has published in the medical literature on the association of pain and varicose veins and Tumescent Anesthesia. As the most experienced vein specialist in Alabama with over 15,000 patients treated since 1995, Dr. Parish continues to work in close association with many specialists in the state including Vascular surgeons, Family Practitioners, Obstetricians, Hematologists, and Dermatologists from whom he has a wide referral base further testifying to his unique qualifications.

Quality and experience in patient management are the cornerstones of the success of the Varicosis, Cosmetic and Laser Center. Dr. Parish is one of a few physicians to achieve the designation of Registered Vascular Technologist and performs all venous ultrasounds and procedures himself for optimum continuity of excellence in patient care from start to finish. The center has been Nationally accredited by the Accreditation Association for Ambulatory Health Care (AAAHC) since 1999. Accreditation demands a high level of commitment and effort. It challenges us always to find better ways to serve our patients.

As a board certified Cosmetic Laser Specialist, Fellow of the American Society of Laser Medicine and Surgery, Board Certified Anesthesia and Critical Care Specialist from Johns Hopkins and a Registered Vascular Technologist (RVT), Dr. Parish has the unique qualifications and expertise to take care of the whole spectrum of varicosis from facial veins to spider and varicose veins on the legs. Discover the beauty of modern medicine at the Varicosis, Cosmetic and Laser Center.
